RESOLUTION.

TO ABANDON COAL AND IRON POLICE.

Mr. RHODES by request offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

Whereas, During the recent strike in the bituminous coal fields, particularly in Western Pennsylvania, the activities of a certain uniformed police force, known as the Coal and Iron Police, was the source of much contention, friction, persecution and wanton brutality, and

Whereas, These Coal and Iron Police represent a body commissioned by the Government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but responsible to and paid by the various mine operators only, and

Whereas, These Coal and Iron Police, instead of guarding and protecting the properties of their employers, the mine operators exclusively, have arrogated to themselves and usurped the power and jurisdiction of the regular State Constabulary, and have acted as peace officers, thereby intermingling the duties of two distinct police bodies, and rendering their functions liable to ambiguous interpretation, and

Whereas, The regular State Constabulary, a body of well disciplined, high grade police is under-manned;

Therefore be it and it is hereby resolved, That the Slovak League of America, an educational organization, chartered under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through its sub-assemblies and subordinate bodies, whose membership is to a large extent composed of coal miners, petition the Hon. John S. Fisher, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and both Houses of the Legislature, to exert their good offices in the creation of such legislation whose aim it would be:

(1) To revoke all the existing commissions for Coal and Iron Police Officers.
(2) Replenish the regular State Constabulary to its full strength, or if necessary increase its number.
(3) If, however, retained, re-issue commissions for Coal and Iron Police only after careful investigation as to fitness and character of applicant;
(4) Limit the power of function of such Coal and Iron Police to the guarding and protecting of company property exclusively.
(5) Pass an Act of Assembly, strictly defining the duties and rights of such Coal and Iron Police.
(6) Regulate by Act of Assembly the use of uniforms for such Coal and Iron Police, different in every essential from that of the regular State Constabulary.

It is further resolved, That copies of these resolutions be submitted to His Excellency, the Hon. John S. Fisher, Governor of Pennsylvania, to every member of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for their kind and favorable consideration, and to the leading newspapers of this Commonwealth.

Given at PITTSBURGH, PA. February 15th, 1929.

SLOVAK LEAGUE OF AMERICA,

JOHN A. KOCUR, Secretary. IVAN BIELEK, President.

O. D. KOREFF, Chairman

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 781, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 639), entitled "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction; and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained, and exemptions therefrom; and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act; and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau; and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," as amended; providing for the reinstatement of licenses to practice, of persons whose names have been removed from the records in the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. There is not any ulterior motive in this interrogation. I simply want the sponsor to clarify the amendment. What is the purpose of the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under certain provisions of the act in reference to the duties of the Board of Education and Licensure a name may be stricken from the list of names of those who have licenses, and there is no provision for reinstatement. There are provisions by which, after a license is revoked, it may be reinstated, but there is no provision in this particular. Therefore, in consultation with the Department of Justice it was deemed advisable to amend the act. This merely gives the board the power to reinstate. The Board may reinstate.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. May I interrogate the gentleman further? Is this to cover some specific case?

Mr. TURNER. No, it covers general cases.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. If I may be permitted, if I read the act correctly, the situation complained of is taken care of in lines 3 and 4, on page 5, and the reinstatement of any licentiate must be by unanimous vote of the members of the Board. I cannot see, for the life of me, how this amendment strengthens the bill, but I can see why a man, for example, who has performed an abortion or some other heinous medical offense might get in under this provision when he was barred by the original bill.

Mr. TURNER. Well, it clearly places the power within the Board to reinstate, and while the gentleman may feel that the provisions are taken care of under the act, I think not alone might he defer to my own opinion as a member of the bar, but having secured the opinion of the Department of the Attorney General that it is not covered, that he might defer to that.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speakers and members of the House, you are now voting on House Bill No. 149, and in view of the fact that several of the members have asked me about this bill, I feel that a word of explanation is due the members of the House.

This bill was prepared in the office of the Auditor General, who is shortly to become the State Treasurer. It is exactly similar to a bill passed at the last session of the Legislature affecting some obsolete act establishing rigid salaries in the office of the Auditor General. (This bill, however, would seek to repeal the obsolete act of 1915 which establishes salaries in the office of the State Treasurer.) The bill is simply designed to free the hands of the State Treasurer and to enable him to better perform his duties as the disbursing officer of the Commonwealth. (Both fiscal officers have stated that in practice it is impossible to follow the old law of 1915.) Therefore, at the last session we repealed the old act as affecting the Auditor General, and at this session it is proposed by the fiscal officers, with the support of the administration, to repeal the act as affecting salaries paid in the office of the State Treasurer. There is no question of economy involved, the amount to be expended in the State Treasurer's office is fixed by recommendations in the budget, subject to the approval of the Legislature. It is, therefore, a move in the interests of greater efficiency in the fiscal departments of our State government.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, might it not be a centralization of power in the hands of the State Treasurer that would become injurious and detrimental a little later on? Is it not taking away from the Legislature a power for us to determine what they shall do, and putting it into the hands of a single individual, and centralizing that power contrary to the spirit of the Constitution of Pennsylvania?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to say in answer to the gentleman from Indiana that this bill simply embodies an old business principle. If you select a man, and in this case the people select a man, and charge him with certain responsibilities and duties, it is then our business to see that we do not interfere with him in the performance of his duties within the limits of economy. That is all this bill proposes to do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The Chair declares a recess until 3.30 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 3.30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

The SPEAKER. It affords the Chair very great pleasure to introduce to the members of the House and our guests at this time the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Haws, who is chairman of the celebration and who will preside over the exercises in this hour.

MR. HAWS IN THE CHAIR.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, the committee, consisting of Messrs. Talbot, Wells, Howe and myself, that was appointed under the terms of the resolution to arrange for celebrating the birthday of George Washington, has, through the co-operation of Mr. Herman Earley, of Harrisburg, a former member of this House, secured the services of the William Penn High School Band, who will give us a number of selections during the celebration.

We will open the celebration with the singing of "America." I had expected this singing to be led by the well-known lyric tenor, from Luzerne, Mr. Jones, but I believe he is tied up in a committee meeting. I will therefore draft the services of our efficient reading clerk, Mr. Quay Hewitt. Let everyone join in the singing.

("America" was sung).

The CHAIRMAN. We will now have a selection by the William Penn High School Band.

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, it has always been my opinion that America was destined by Providence to accomplish a noble work and through those great principles of liberty and freedom it has enabled us to move and quicken the whole civilized world. We have not only spread civilization over this continent, but we have been called upon to defend and spread civilization in other countries and by our aggressive spirit of Americanism we have given a new impulse to the cause of human rights and freedom. Likewise our unlimited and undying confidence in the heart of our national government is still growing and is not to be diminished in the slightest degree by the actions and words of the irresponsible propagandist. Amidst all the problems we have encountered, amidst the questions we have solved, we have never lost sight of liberty as each one's right, and it is upon this energy in our Revolution that all our institutions have been built. It was this idea of human liberty and freedom that gave to America, that great patriot, that great statesman, the great American whose 197th birthday we are celebrating, that greatest of all Americans, George Washington. It was his idea of human liberty that gave our Declaration of Independence its significance. In that immortal document Washington took the ground of indestructible rights of every human being, and we have maintained, and do still maintain, that all persons are essentially equal and born to be free, and while we rejoice in the great heritage that is ours, let our records of the past incite us to the hopes for the future, that the good work we have begun will be continued, and that America will remain the hope of the world.

Ladies and gentlemen, it is now my privilege to introduce to you one of the members of our House, a member who comes from a county that is rich in historical lore; from the county that gave to the country one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence; from the county in which the Continental Congress first met, in the city of Chester, on its way to Philadelphia, a member of the very brilliant delegation that so ably represents its county in this House. I have the extreme pleasure of introducing as the first speaker the Honorable Grover C. Talbot, of the County of Delaware.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, a distinct honor has been conferred upon me by the committee in that I am permitted to talk with you for a few moments upon the life of the first and greatest of all Americans, George Washington.

It seems fitting that we should pause in this legislative hall with our deliberations that we may pay our respects to this great American and may yearly perpetuate his memory. Rare is it given in this life that man's deeds and actions live until his death. More rare is it that a man's deeds and actions live beyond the grave, but rarer still is it given to a man that his deeds and actions not only live beyond the grave, but increase in years and grow even into centuries, and so we are gathered today, my friends, upon the eve of the hundred and seventy-ninth anniversary of the birth of George Washington. We gather each year that we may receive a baptism of inspiration to carry us forward for the coming year, and I pray God that the time may never come in our history when we shall cease to celebrate the birthday of this great American. Independence day celebrates the nation; Thanksgiving Day commemorates the family; Christmas Day is a festival of the church; but Washington's Birthday is the celebration of the birth and life of ideal Americanism.

Historians have been prone to picture Washington as a man of course with means and living throughout his life a life of ease. I shall attempt in the few moments that are allotted to me to give you a picture of the sacrifices made necessary in Washington's life, practically throughout his entire life. When the second Continental Congress met, he attended with the express purpose of offering his life and fortune to the cause of American independence. The mantle of responsibility, the command and leadership of the American Army, was placed upon his shoulders and history tells us that it was with a great deal of regret that he accepted this responsibility and in a letter written to his wife at that time he said that his only reason for accepting this responsibility was the fear of censure of his character that might bring dishonor to himself and his family. History also tells us that from that moment on George Washington himself was submerged and he became subservient to the American people and its cause and its interests. It is told that after the war while peace was in sight but yet not made, that some of his supposed friends went among the troops that had not yet been mustered out and told them that in view of the fact that they had not received their money they should not sheath their swords until they were paid. The story goes that Washington came out before these men that he loved so well, knowing full well that mutiny could not prevail when victory and peace were in sight, and taking off his hat and fumbling in his pocket for his spectacles he said, "Men, I have grown white in your service and I am growing blind also," and these men without exception fell at his feet sobbing and begging for forgiveness. I bring this picture to you to show the humane side of this great American.

After the completion of the war George Washington felt that he had earned the right to rest and so retired to his estate at Mount Vernon, but the petty jealousies resulting in the attempt to frame a constitution and the men so engaged not accomplishing anything, Washington felt it his bounden duty to answer the call of the country and attend this session. He was then elected the first President of these United States. History tells us of the suffering and of the intriguing of his enemies, and even among his friends of a readiness to stab him in the back. When his first term had expired even his enemies asked that he serve a second time. At the completion of that second term Washington believing that the Constitution had been framed for all time, retired to his estate.

My friends, God loaned to the world at a propitious time George Washington, and after the completion of the particular work that he did here he was called home to receive his just reward. Forever may live the name of George Washington, the Father of our Country.

(The William Penn High School Band rendered another selection).

The CHAIRMAN. Ladies and gentlemen, having dilated on the greatness of the county of Delaware, I may say this with pardonable pride for the county of Philadelphia, that the next speaker whom I am about to introduce comes from that county, a gentleman who is a former member of this House, and I might say a former floor leader in the session of 1921, in those hectic days when it required a man of great courage and iron nerve to be designated as a floor leader of this House, a gentleman who is well qualified to speak on the life and acts of George Washington.

I have extreme pleasure in introducing to you the Honorable James A. Walker, of Philadelphia.

The HONORABLE JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, the opportunity of addressing you on a subject as important as that of the Father of our Country is a matter of signal honor. To do that in this, the most beautiful Legislative hall in the United States, inside of the finest Capitol that we have within the country, and in the State wherein Washington's mighty works were done, and by one who formerly served with you, crowns this occasion with great personal gratification to the Speaker of this moment.

This hall has been beautified in its art by a Pennsylvanian for the world-known Edward Abbey was of Pennsylvania birth and people. Behind us is that great depiction or apothesis of Pennsylvania history. Among those figures most of the prominent ones were not of Pennsylvania birth. William Penn, Stephen Girard, Benjamin Franklin, made their names in Pennsylvania, and from a great standpoint Washington's name was made in Pennsylvania. There is on the painting behind us some words which I consider appropriate at this moment. Not very often are they noticed, for they are written on the rock above the plinth at the base of the picture and are not seen unless they are carefully observed. They are taken from the Book of Leviticus, from the ancient law. They read, "Remember the day of old, consider the years of many generations ask thy father and he will show thee, thy elders and they will tell thee." And so, following the admonition of that precept, year by year this House gathers, when in session, to reverence the memory of him who did so much for us when he led the people.

Washington started as a public man in the office of a surveyor. He did a little surveying in his home state of Virginia, or colony of Virginia, but his great work as a surveyor was done in Western Pennsylvania for the British government. The experiences which he had while out there as a surveyor availed him in good stead when he entered upon the performance of his great national career, when as an officer of the militia he engaged under the British flag to defend the affairs of Britain and of the colonies against the French and Indian aggressions and depredations. There it was that we found him saving the life of Braddock, his commanding general; there it was that he had horses shot from beneath him, and yet was able to take from the holocaust those that were spared because of his knowledge of Indian lore and of the topography of that country. That experience subsequently benefited in that great subsequent experience which made him so dear to all Americans, and, singular to say, that prior to the last war his picture was found back in the worst areas of civilization, in the stricken land of Russia, and over there those poor peasants pleading and praying for liberty set beside their icons the picture of the Father of our country.

So as a soldier and a patriot, he came to the front in Pennsylvania, because from Pennsylvania went his commission as a general in the army. That old Congress sent out his commission from Philadelphia, and it was delivered to him in Cambridge and there he became the commander-in-chief of the American forces.

The former speaker referred to the Declaration of Independence, of the interest that Washington had in it before and after its adoption. I cannot help but recall those lines which as a boy in public school in our old city were taught in the early grades. Those words are these:

"There was tumult in the city,
In the quaint old Quaker town,
And the streets were lined with people,
Pacing restless up and down.
People standing on the corners,
Where they whispered each to each,
And the sweat stood on their temples,
With the earnestness of speech."

The old bell-ringer of the city, William Hurley, had been told to ring the bell on the state house, and his little grandson who had been informed by someone in Congress that the Declaration of Independence had at last been adopted, ran out in the belfry and cried, "Ring, Grandpa, ring for liberty." And from its old iron throat liberty was proclaimed to this country and to all the inhabitants thereof. And so as the soldier and in command of his armies he started from Pennsylvania. Even as a patriot his work was wholly centered in Pennsylvania, and during that war as commander of the armies of the United States of America only three major engagements of his were fought outside of the boundaries of this State of ours, the last of which being Yorktown, and the first being Trenton.

As has been indicated by the prior speaker, after the close of the Revolutionary War he returned to the quietude of Mount Vernon. The Articles of Federation, being a federation of about a dozen states, had failed; the country was in a chaotic condition and thereupon it was attempted to lay a basis for a constitution and form a government. He became the President of the convention which framed that instrument, of which the great Gladstone said "never had one set of hands of men or one group of the minds of men created such an instrument." During the sessions of the convention, during the bitter quarrels that occurred in the convention, during the bitter tirades issued so vituperatively by the senator from Pennsylvania against the Constitution, because it did not at that time contain the Bill of Rights, during all that time, Washington remained a firm, a calm, a just, a noble figure, so that wherever his name and fame went after the close of the session, his honesty, his bravery, his devotion, his patriotism, became apparent to all to whom the message was carried.

By reading the Constitution you will find in its preamble part of that which he so much believed in, that which changed it from Articles of Federation, that which caused the Articles to fall down, that which changed the words from "a convention of the states," to the words, "We, the people of the United States."

You will also remember that those messages which he sent to the Congress of his day as well as his farewell address have been great marks along our pathway. They have been like a beacon enlightening our national travel throughout the year and have done much to prevent us from entering into foreign embroglios of the world. Such was Washington as a statesman.

Then there came the time after the Constitution had been adopted when it was necessary that a President should be elected. That function having been accomplished, Washington first became President of the United States in the Congress Hall of the old state house at Philadelphia, in Pennsylvania. So he entered upon that great career which has been handed down to us a synonym of what a President should be. Following his accession to the Presidency, there arose that discussion on the subject of the establishment of a national bank which brought about that condition which today separates some members of the House from others, some members of the Senate here from others, and so throughout the whole forty-eight states that distinction remains, for it was because of the quarrel over the establishment of a national bank between Jefferson on one side against it, and Hamilton on the other side for it, and it was when Washington threw his weight to Hamilton that thereupon became established the Federalist Party and the so-called of this day Republican Party. The so-called parties today known as the Republican Party and the Democratic Party. May I for a moment also call your attention to the friendships of Washington. True it was that at that time Providence seemed to have raised up throughout the world a galaxy of men and women who were deeply interested in the question of government. Then it was that Washington made his friendship with Jefferson, with Franklin, with the Morrises with Wayne, with Madison, and, strange to say, with a stranger who came to these lands and changed his name, who came, as he believed, fleeing from justice and became one of its best known men, our patriot, John Paul Jones, the Scotch boy from Kirkcudbright. Then also he made the acquaintance and became the friend of one of the most distinguished warriors of the sea, the boy commodore, as he was called of the American Navy, Joshua Barney, who came to Philadelphia from Baltimore and married a Philadelphia girl and there settled until his later years, the man who first presented to the Republic of France the American colors.

His friendships remained firm. No story in American history outside of Washington's prayer at Valley Forge is as pathetic in its effect on its auditors as Washington's farewell address to his officers. It was as if that was their own father and that that devoted father was passing forever from this land to the land wherein he would render his final account.

Hamilton fought with him and fought at him, but Washington would not fight back, and finally the breach was healed and now the spirit of Washington still lives.

A poem was taught me as a boy in public school winds up with a passage which reflects Washington.

"Hushed is now its iron tongue,
That old state house bell is silent,
But the spirit it engendered,
Still is living, ever young."

And so the spirit of Washington still lives.

Those words uttered by that great orator on the day that the Bunker Hill Monument was dedicated apply to him and those who served so patriotically with him.

"The hand that wrote the Declaration of Independence is, indeed, motionless."

"The eloquent lips that sustained it are hushed; but the lofty spirits that concieved, resolved and maintained it; and which, alone, to such men if worth life to live, these cannot expire;

These shall resist the empire of decay
When time is o'er and worlds have passed away,
Cold in the dust the perished heart may lie,
But that which warmed it once can never die."

As one goes to the hills and valleys of Pennsylvania, as we look upon her lakes, her streams and rivers, as we see her broad and fertile acres, as we pass over her boundary, over the boundaries of other states, and behold from the Atlantic to the Pacific the Lakes to the Gulf that which Washington did with his colleagues to bring about, "we the people of the United States" I think I might paraphrase the ancient words of Vergil in his Aeneid

"Tantae molis erat Pennsylvanians condere gentem".

So great a work was it to found the Pennsylvania people. And as we gaze upon our nation and as we remember what it has come from, and as we remember the work started by Washington and those who served and who died with him, truly we should with another poet say,

"Oh land I love, thy acres sown
With blood, and sweat, and shattered bone;
God's grain, that ever doth increase
The goodly harvest of his peace."

The CHAIRMAN. I wish to extend thanks to all those who have in any way assisted in the celebration this afternoon and particularly to the members of the William Penn High School Band for the wonderful music they have rendered. We will now be led in singing the Star Spangled Banner by the Honorable Ben Jones of Luzerne County.

The Chairman of the Committee has a further pleasant duty to perform, having just been advised of the fact, in extending the congratulations of this Assembly to several gentlemen who are members of this House, the Honorable Patrick Connors, of Philadelphia; the Honorable Joseph Marcus, of Allegheny, and the Honorable James T. Heffran, of Washington County, who celebrated their birthdays today.

INVOCATION.

The Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Martin W. Schweitzer, offered the following invocation:

Blesed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

Almighty God, we thank Thee that in the dark hours of our national life Thou didst raise up Thy Servant, the first President of the United States to be a leader and commander. Help us to keep in memory his exalted patriotism and his wise statesmanship. May these qualities be in incentives and influences that shall be exerted upon generations to come. We are to observe a national holiday dedicated to the man who was always first. It was said of him that he was "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." Washington's Birthday! The day on which we pay tribute to one of the noblest spirits that ever breathed the air of America. Washington teaches us that to be first we must have qualities of heart and mind; must strive to be honest and kind at all times. He became a leader both in war and peace through his ability and patience . We give Thee special praise for raising up Thy servant, George Washington, and giving him to be leader and commander of the people; for bestowing upon him many excellent gifts; for freedom to do the thing that is right, and liberty to say the truth; for a settled Constitution and for a preservation of the faith. We bless and magnify Thy Holy Name, humbly beseeching Thee to accept our sacrifice of thanks and praise. In His Name. Amen.

PROCEEDINGS OF WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION SPREAD UPON THE JOURNAL.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the proceedings of the Washington's Birthday celebration be spread upon the Journal.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, in the Evening Public Ledger, dated Philadelphia, Tuesday, February 19, 1929, there appears an article headed, "Fate of Coal Tax Repealer to be decided here Friday." Among other things contained in that article appears the following:

"Proponents of the repealer have come to the conclusion that it would be hopeless to attempt a complete repeal of the tax of eight cents a ton on coal at this season."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know what motives actuated the author of this article, but I do know that that particular statement is absolutely untrue, unfounded, and without a scintilla of authority. I can say in all earnestness and sincerity that there has been no one who has been authorized to speak for the consumers of anthracite coal, for the operators of anthracite coal or those in this House and the Senate who have been entrusted with the bills pertaining to the repeal of the anthracite tonnage tax. I say that none of these people gave anybody authority to issue a statement of that type.

We have endeavored to be absolutely fair in this matter and the chairman of the committee on repeal bills of the House will I am sure bear with me and state to your members of the House that we have been fair, but if tactics of this type are to be used then I say our hands are being forced. I resent, on behalf of my colleagues from the anthracite producing counties, methods of this type. I can use no language of condemnation too strong to express my feelings with regard to methods of this type. I can only say that they smack of everything that is low, that is beneath an issue as affecting and striking at the very heart of our industry. We will be fair; we will not try to force anybody's hands, but if we are to be backed to the wall by methods of this type then the only thing that I can see is that we must be prepared to meet the issue, and I sincerely hope that when that day arrives we will be adequately prepared, and if we must meet methods of this type I am sure that we will at least make a fair attempt to do so.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from Schuylkill, that if he lived in the city of Philadelphia he would soon learn not to take seriously everything that appears in its newspapers.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentlemen who have arisen to questions of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

NAYS—1

Donnell,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 52, entitled:

An Act supplementing existing laws relating to the returns of aldermen, justices of the peace and committing magistrates of transcripts of their dockets, et cetera.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I render my right to the floor to the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is similar to one that was passed by the last session of the House, the 1927 session. It seems to provide only a means whereby the returns of magistrates all over the Commonwealth and the returns of cash bail may be controlled and regulated by the court of quarter sessions on the affidavit of the district attorney. You men know as well, and in some instances even better, the situation that arises, particularly in large cities, where we have magistrates of varying quality, that in many instances they become careless and fail to make their returns as required by law, both as to the true transcript, the recognizance and as well as the cash bail. This bill merely makes it possible, upon petition of the district attorney, to have the court of quarter sessions ask that a magistrate who may be delinquent, and only when he is delinquent, make such return as required by law.

I am sorry, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that I did not have an opportunity to go among you and ask you for personal support for this measure. I am sorry indeed that a member of this House should see fit to go among you and personally solicit your support, and did not have the courtesy to come to me and ask me to put this bill on the postponed calendar or make some other disposition of it. I ask you at this time to support it upon its merits. If you do that you will vote to pass the bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House the bill would be an excellent bill if it confined itself to cash bail. The bill goes much further. Under the practice, not only in Philadelphia, but in the country as well, many a time a justice of the peace hears a trivial charge of some kind and the next day he receieves better information and the transcript is not sent in. Why should that old established custom of one hundred years not continue.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, February 20, 1929.

PRAYER.

Eternal God, we thank Thee for the peace that prevails throughout our land and throughout the world. We thank Thee for the high ideals of peace that have gripped our entire planet, and we pray that this peace may endure as long as humanity itself endures.

While we glory in this peace, we would not, particulary at this season of the year, forget the heroic men of the past who were willing, with the largest share of devotion that it was in their power to give, to place their all on their country's altar and follow our great leaders such as Washington and Grant and Pershing in their achievements.

We pray that we may, with a like devotion, place our lives upon our country's altar and ever labor to advance the high interests of our land. Amen.

RESOLUTION.

INVESTIGATION OF COAL AND IRON POLICE.

Mr. DUNN offered the following resolution and asked unanimous consent for its adoption.

Whereas, during the last week the public press has carried news account of a murder committed in Allegheny County by certain members of the coal and iron police of the Pittsburgh Coal Company;

Whereas, for the last two or three years there have been reports of various depredations against person and property by coal and iron police in western Pennsylvania;

Whereas, this should be and is a matter that the Legislature should investigate;

Therefore, be it Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that a committee of six be appointed to make a complete investigation of the coal and iron police activities, particularly in western Pennsylvania and report the results of the said investigation to the Legislature;

Be it Further Resolved, that the said investigating committee be made up of three representatives and three senators, the representatives to be appointed by the Speaker and the senators by the Lieutenant Governor.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the adoption of the resolution at this time? Is there any objection?

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to oppose the resolution of the gentleman from Allegheny, because I am in favor of the same empty hopes, but in view of the fact that at the present time there is legislation pending before the House on this very subject, we can in committee thrash out all the evidence pertinent to the question and we can call any witnesses that Mr. Dunn would like to interrogate. In view of that fact, Mr. Speaker, I would like to persuade, if I may, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dunn, to withdraw his resolution.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my request for unanimous consent that immediate action be taken.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny withdraws his request for unanimous consent.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over for printing.

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1929.

Whereas, The Executive Board has power under the Administrative Code to standardize salaries of persons employed by the Administrative Departments and

Whereas The salaries of the Capitol police are fixed and paid according to said standards and appear to be much less than the compensation paid by municipalities for similar service and insufficient to maintain a family under present economical conditions therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly requests the Executive Board of the Commonwealth to reconsider its standards of salaries for the Capitol police and to revise the same so that the department employing such police may hereafter pay to them a living wage

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 51 OF 1925.

Mr. SHEELY offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, February 20, 1929.

Whereas, On the sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, his Excellency, Gifford Pinchot, then Governor of the Commonwealth, approved Concurrent Resolution number fifty-one, providing for the establishment of a commission for the celebration in conjunction with the Federal Government and the other states of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, and

Whereas, The members of said commission were duly appointed as provided by said resolution and were directed to make a report biennially to the Legislature of the progress made in the formation of a program, and

Whereas, Funds were to be appropriated by the General Assembly from time to time for the expenses of such commission, and

Whereas, No report has been made by the commission so appointed and no appropriation has been made and the General Assembly has no information before it of what has been done toward carrying out the purposes of said resolution, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the commission appointed under the provisions of said concurrent resolution of May sixth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, be requested to make a report of its proceedings and to lay before the General Assembly not later than April first, of this year, such information as it may have of the arrangements made or contemplated for such celebration, and what appropriation should be made to carry out the purposes of the above mentioned resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House shall immediately forward a copy of this Resolution to each member of said commission.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 52, file folio 651, entitled:

An Act supplementing existing laws relating to the returns of aldermen, justices of the peace and committing magistrates of transcripts of their dockets et cetera.

on page 9 of the calendar of February 19, 1929, was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it I understood that the vote on this bill was to be reconsidered for the purpose of amendment and eliminating the features that seemed to be wrong in the bill, I would be willing to go along with the motion and for that purpose I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I will very gladly.

Mr. SOWERS. Is the sponsor of the bill willing to eliminate the matter of transcripts?

Mr. STERLING. The sponsor is willing to do anything that will make this bill uniformly acceptable to every member of this House. For the time being, however, the sponsor desires that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar so that the opinion of any member of the House that is interested in the bill may crystalize itself, and he intends immediately after this motion is acted on to make a further motion to place the bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SOWERS. Would the sponsor be willing to send it back to committee for amendment?

Mr. STERLING. At the present time the sponsor would not.

Mr. SOWERS. Is not the same bill pending in the Senate?

Mr. STERLING. I understand it is.

Mr. SOWERS. And is on the second reading calendar today?

Mr. STERLING. That I cannot answer.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the same bill is pending in the Senate and is on the second reading calendar today. It seems to me that the proper thing to do with a bill of this kind is to let it go back to committee for amendment. However, the sponsor differs with me in that respect and for that reason I ask you to vote down the motion to reconsider.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my purpose in offering this motion was to give us an opportunity to really study this bill. It came up yesterday afternoon on the calendar. I was under the impression that it somewhat changed the present law with reference to the return of transcripts, therefore I felt I was opposed to it. I think there were a number of the members sitting near me that felt the same way about it. Since that time there has been some light thrown on the matter that has somewhat changed my own opinion and I think the opinion of other members here. I think in fairness to the sponsor of this bill we ought to put it back on the calendar if we voted on it under a misapprehension, and give him an opportunity to put it on the postponed calendar. I feel certain that the members of this House, knowing the sponsor of this bill as they do, will realize that he will be glad to amend it in any way that seems to be right and proper. If we do that and we still differ with him we will have an opportunity to defeat the bill again, but I feel that we should give him the opporunity at least to put it back on the calendar.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will withdraw my objections to the reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was defeated and I am perfectly satisfied that it go back on the calendar. I think the sponsor will sit in with us and try to amend it so that it meets with the approval of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mrs. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion

The motion was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. BUCKMAN,

That Rule 38, which requires reports of Committees on Nominations made by the Governor to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpoe of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. BUCKMAN,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, referring to nominations for members of the Game Commission: A week or two ago I was responsible for a motion which caused these nominations to be recommitted to the Committee on Executive Nominations for the purpose of further consideration. Perhaps it is in order for me at this time to make a few remarks in connection with these nominations.

I want to say at the outset that I did not have at that time and do not now have, any objection to the personnel of these Game Commissioners as such. They are members of a Commission consisting of nine gentlemen of this State, who serve the State without compensation and have a very hard duty to perform, but I do want to go on record in saying that in my judgment this Commission, as a whole, greatly exceeded its powers in the last year. I am not especially interested in the question of the deer laws. I am more interested in the general laws which we pass from time to time, and I am especially interested that no commission, that no department of this state government, shall take upon itself the changing of those laws that are passed by solemn acts of assembly without due and proper reason therefor. I am not unmindful that in connection with the game laws there is certain discretion invested in the Game Commission by the Act of 1925, and that Game Commission is given perhaps wider powers than any other Commission, or any other Department in the State Government. They are given the right to change the season, change the bag of game that may be taken in any one day or in any one season; they are also allowed to do other things in this connection, to close the counties to the taking of certain kinds of game in any given season, but this Commission has taken upon itself and has done things, which, in my judgment, were absolutely unjustified, and I want to go on record now for the benefit of this Commission, as well as future Commissions, to serve notice upon them that when this Legislature, by solemn act of assembly passes a law and fixes the season for any kind of game, whether it be deer or ring-neck pheasants, or what not, that it is the law of this Commonwealth and should be respected as such, and those seasons should not be changed without due and proper cause.

I am particularly interested in my county, in the ring-neck pheasants. Prior to this last year the season for killing these ring-neck pheasants was from November 1st to November 15th, inclusive, and we were getting along very nicely in that connection. Just prior to the game season last fall this Commission saw fit to absolutely disregard the Act of Assembly fixing the season on ring-neck pheasants, and changed it to read from October 15th to November 15th, and provided that those pheasants may be killed on the last three days of each week for a period of six weeks, with the result that in my county particularly, that thousands upon thousands of ring-neck pheasants were killed by the pot hunters living in the centers of population surrounding my county, and I want to say to this Commission as well as to all other commissions and heads of departments upon this hill, that the sooner they realize that the legislature is the law making body of this Commonwealth, the sooner they get back to the constitution and remember that when a law is passed by this legislature it is to be respected as such, the better it will be for all concerned. It is very proper that this legislature should seek advice and take advice from the departments and from the commissions that run this State Government, but when the heads of departments and those commissions come into this legislature and hand us bills and practically tell us that we must pass them, they are exceeding their authority, and I for one am going to be very chary about passing any of those bills that are handed to us by those various departments, unless they have merit.

Mr. President, it has gotten to such a point that the legislature of this State is looked upon as a disease, or a bad cold, that happens every two years, and has to run its course, and as soon as we go home these departments and commissions seem to take it upon themselves to think that the period of ailment or sickness has passed and to do just as they please. While we are in session they send in bills from time to time gobbling up unto themselves more power year after year, and they expect us to act as rubber stamps, to place our stamp of approval upon those bills, and I want to serve notice on all these departments and on these commissions that the sooner they realize that the legislature makes these laws and that they are paid to carry out and enforce them when made, the better it will be for the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I have no objection to the confirmation of these commissioners now under consideration, I shall very gladly vote for their confirmation, but I do hope that hereafter they will stick to the Constitution and to the laws that are passed by this legislature, in order that the people of this State may look into the statute books of this State and find out what the law is, without waiting for the various meetings of the Game Commission to change those laws and to make entirely different laws.

Referring to the question of the deer law, which has been greatly changed by this commission: As I said a while ago, I am not especially interested as a deer hunter particularly, but I do want to say this, that in my county alone there are hundreds upon hundreds of men, who, by reason of this action of the Game Commission, were absolutely disfranchised of their privilege of shooting deer last fall, and this Commission should be careful to see that they are acting within their rights, and that they are carrying out the intent of the law, as well as the letter. As I said before, they are given certain discretion under the Act of 1925, but it was never intended that they should use that discretion, except in case of emergency.

I shall very gladly vote for the confirmation of this Commission but I do want to leave this word with them in order that they will not repeat in years to come what they have done this past year.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FRAZIER: Mr. President, this is a bill in which I am very heartily interested. The Senate may recall that when it was presented it was accompanied by petitions signed by over ten thousand of the women voters of Philadelphia County. I feel that I owe sort of an apology to the women of Philadelphia and to this Senate, because I have been rather deceiving them and the Senate for almost two years and I think in talking to the Senate a member ought to be perfectly frank.

The women are charged with being in back of this bill. As a matter of fact, that is what I want to apologize about. I was associated with a number of men and women in Philadelphia County who wanted an excuse to avoid telling their ages, and they came to me and asked me if I would not get up a sentiment amongst the women in favor of such a bill. As a result of that the women of Philadelphia County signed a petition addressed to me asking me to sponsor a bill of this character, and in looking up the records in Philadelphia I found one other reason why this bill should go through the Legislature and be signed by the Governor.

We have in Philadelphia a Bureau of Vital Statistics wherein all births and deaths are recorded, and being, in Philadelphia, very desirous of keeping our registration lists as pure as possible, we have requested the Department of Vital Statistics to check up with the registry books any time a death is recorded by an undertaker.

We found in Philadelphia that our undertakers were very careless in that they were not keeping correct records of the deaths of women who had previously registered. There were probably 95% of the returns of the undertakers in Philadelphia that showed they were burying the daughters instead of the mothers.

Those two factors coming before us, we thought it was very wise to have such a bill as this in the City of Philadelphia; and I think that this Senate, composed as it is of most chivalrous men, did not put through the bill in 1927 for the purpose of excluding Philadelphia but because our Philadelphia Senators were a little careless; and therefor I hope that this bill will have the unanimous support of this Senate.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to say a word in favor of this bill.

We in Allegheny County have enjoyed this privilege for the last few years. I had the pleasure and privilege of presenting such a bill here two years ago, and I will say to you it was at the request of the good women of Allegheny County; but since that time I discovered the men were just as well pleased about this bill as the ladies were, because they are just as careful about giving their ages as the women were. So I strongly urge that you pass this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I feel rather embarrassed to be interrogated by Senator Davis, knowing him as I do; but I shall endeavor to answer.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he has amended the bill in such a way that it will not require the giving of the ages of the ladies in registering?

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, that is the purpose of the bill. They give their age as "twenty-one years of age and upwards." The trouble is we have such charming women we cannot tell whether they are 21 or not.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to draw to the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier, that there is a part of the registration law which requires the registrar to ask the ladies in what years they were born. If that does not give their ages I am mistaken.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. BAUMER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

An Act authorizing the judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' courts, in counties of the third class, to employ stenographers, typists, and clerks, to facilitate the business of the courts, and to provide for the payment of their compensation by the county, and validating former employments and payments therefor.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUNKLE. I desire to address the Senate in regard to this bill. It provides, "That to facilitate the labors of the judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' courts in counties of the third class in this Commonwealth in the disposition of the business of the various courts the said judges are hereby authorized to employ the help of stenographers, typists and other clerks and fix their compensation, Provided, That the cost of such help shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars per annum for each of said judges."

This bill makes provision similar to the Act of 1907, which is a general act applying to the courts all over the state, and under this act our courts and judges have the power to appoint stenographers and assistant stenographers. As an attorney having some experience in the courts I fail to perceive that there is any necessity whatever for this bill, and as a representative of one of the counties of the third-class I desire to protest against the passage of this act, as being unnecessary, and it would impose upon the taxpayers of every third-class county in the Commonwealth an addition of $2500 per year, in addition to the salaries of the stenographer and the assistant that are now employed,—and for the very same purpose, as I understand the reading of this act.

Now, I do not think that there has been any act of this character passed in this Legislature, unless it was the Act of 1927, which applied to fourth-class counties; and I believe that I would not be doing my duty if I did not call the attention of this body to this particular act. If we examine our files we will find we are passing, from time to time, statutes that, to my mind, are local and special,—just as I say this act is a local and special act; and when we get through having acts passed for every county in the state I appeal to the Senators here from third-class counties not to impose this burden upon third-class counties, because the time will come sooner or later when bills will be presented for every other county, of every class, so as to cover every particular county.

It is customary for us to go along on bills with neighbors representing different class counties of this state. I think that is a mistake. I believe that every bill ought to pass on its own merits, and I think this bill is special and class legislation, and I want to call the attention of this body to a section of the constitution which reads as follows:

> "All laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation and the organization, jurisdiction and powers of all courts of the same class or grade so far as regulated by law and the force and effect of the process and judgment of said courts shall be uniform."

I am reading Section 26 of Article 5 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Now, as to whether this act applies to courts, I want to call your attention to a decision rendered by the present Chief Justice of the State of Pennsylvania, in Harrisburg,—not while he was a Justice of the Supreme Court but while he was presiding in the Court of Dauphin County, I believe,—rendered April 5, 1904. In the opinion he was discussing the act of 1903, and I will read what he says on that subject:

> "The question arises: Is the act of April 14, 1903, (P. L. 175), to fix the salaries of judges of the several courts, a law relating to courts? And, if so, is it such a law as is controlled by the mandate of the constitution as set forth in Section 26, Article 5, as above quoted, to the effect that 'all laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation.' This act certainly had reference to, and is in respect to, and is drawn in regard to, courts."

So that we have very respectable authority here, to my mind, that this is a special act of assembly applying only to third class counties, of which there are three in this Commonwealth.

And, again, when you consider the construction of the courts, I fail to see that there is any difference between a court of common pleas or orphans' court in a third class county or in one of the first class or second or any other class. The courts are the same, or ought to be the same, and governed by the same laws wherever they may be, and I have given it as my judgment, based upon the wording of the constitution of the state, that I have just read, that this is a special law, and as such, should not be passed by this Senate. I therefore ask that this bill be defeated.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I shall be glad to answer any question.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I should like to ask the Senator if the same article in the constitution existed in 1927.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I think it is apparent it did. I do not know why the gentleman asks the question.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, whether he voted in favor of a similar bill for fourth-class counties.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I think I did, as many other Senators did.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I ask the Senator again if he voted for such a bill for fourth-class counties.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. President, I think I did; but in acknowledging I did not give it the consideration it deserved. I want to state the reason for that is just as we went along on acts relating to first-class counties and second-class counties, because we assumed something that we ought not to assume,—that the acts are constitutional.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I have the honor to represent a third-class county, with a population of about three hundred thousand. I think fourth-class counties have a smaller population, and yet the Senator votes to give the judges in fourth-class counties a stenographer but opposes a bill giving the third-class counties a stenographer.

It is a well-known fact that the judges in the regions where we have the coal-mining have plenty of work, and I do not think I would want to sit on the bench and write any opinions out in longhand writing if I could have a stenographer.

This bill provides only that the judges may have a stenographer not to exceed twenty-five hundred dollars, and I cannot see for the life of me why this opposition should arise now when counties of the first, second and fourth classes have stenographers for their judges, and yet the Senator from Westmoreland sees fit to oppose this bill.

I ask this Senate to vote for this bill. I think it is a just bill, and I think we are only following a precedent that we have long lived under. The counties are classified from one to eight, and there is no reason why this bill is unconstitutional, because the Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of our eight counties; therefore, in presenting bills we must present them by classification or they would not be constitutional. I ask the Senate to vote for this bill.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Martin W. Schweitzer, offered the following prayer:

Almighty Father, we come to Thee. We call Thee Father, and yet how often we fail to know how truly Thou art the Father of Mercies and the God of all comfort. What would we be without Thee? Life itself is Thy gift. Health is ours only because of Thy watchfulness over our lives. Temptations are overcome only because we are panoplied by Thy strength. Sin is forgiven only because of Thine infinite love in Jesus Christ our Saviour. We thank Thee from full hearts for all these Thy gifts that bring us peace and power. And, now aid us in the life of this week, this day, this hour. Whatever we may do, may it be out of Thine abounding grace and with an eye single to Thy Glory. Hear us, Oh Thou who are strong to save. God bless us and keep us and make his face to shine upon us and give us peace. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM DR. A. C. MORGAN.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication which was read by the Clerk as follows:

DR. A. C. MORGAN
2018 Chestnut Street
PHILADELPHIA

February 23, 1929.

Hon. Aaron B. Hess,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

The Public press of the 19th printed the news of adoption of a resolution by the House on the evening previous, to the effect that the undersigned would be called before the House to explain certain alleged statements, said to have been made by me in the course of an address some months ago.

To date I have not received official comunication from the House, therefore, on my own volition I am writing to you at this time, to refute the charge of having made any direct or indirect statement that would bring discredit upon or impugn the character and standing of any member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Statements attributed to me at that time were incorrectly recorded so that a wrong idea gained publicity thereby.

I regret that such occurrence has arisen, inasmuch as I have the honor to be the son of a former member of the House, who sat in that honorable body from 1873 to 1878, and whose example and precepts always stood for the best things in civic and community life.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR C. MORGAN, M. D.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe the resolution of last week has been properly answered, and I am happy to know that the Doctor has clarified the good name of the members of this House. I am satisfied to accept this response as being O. K. as far as I am concerned. I think the newspapers should take notice of it and give just as much publicity to the answer as they gave to the charge.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while it is a very nice thing on the part of Doctor Morgan to take advantage of an answer to this House before he is cited to appear here, I want to say that I interviewed the Doctor on that article, and what the Doctor says in this communication to the Speaker does not coincide with what he said to me. I say that the terms of that resolution should be complied with and he should be cited to appear before the Committee on Health and Sanitation and I will answer him.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am willing to believe that no member of this body accepted any money for this or any other project that was to come before it, and I am willing to believe that Doctor Morgan does not mean that any member of this House accepted any money. However, as a member of the Fourth Estate I am not willing to believe that this newspaper man, whoever he may be, incorrectly quoted the Doctor in such a manner as Doctor Morgan insinuates. If the gentleman was misquoted, as he says, he has had ample time for recourse at law. He has also had ample time for an apology from this newspaper. I am not interested in carrying this matter any further. I am willing to accept the learned gentleman's apology, but as a newspaper man and as a member of this House I do not wish to sit silent while a member of the House is attacked or the veracity of an American newspaper is questioned.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to second what the gentleman from Lawrence County said; as a newspaper man and also as a legislator I resent the passing of the buck to the newspaper.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I still insist that the terms of that resolution should be complied with. The honesty of this House has been questioned. As I said before, I interviewed the Doctor, and he said that he had substantial information and I say that he should be brought here and compelled to give that information to this House.

The SPEAKER. The resolution was not worded just that way, the Chair will inform the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The Chair states that the matter before the House at this time is simply this communication. The entire matter can be taken up under the order of resolutions.

COMMUNICATION LAID ON TABLE.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this communication be laid on the table.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Haws.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Haws, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAWS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask if it is the intention of the gentleman from Philadelphia to permit this communication to simply lie on the table until such time as the order of the day will bring it up under the head of resolutions or is it for the purpose of stifling the communication and bringing up the resolution by itself?

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, it lies on the table under parliamentary law. I have no intention of stifling anything but it seems to me there is an air of stifling around here on this particular communication.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will explain that a communication ordered laid upon the table can be called from the table at any time by any member of the House.

Mr. STEEDLE. Then, Mr. Speaker, since Mr. Haws insists upon Doctor Morgan appearing before the committee, of which he is a member, and furthermore, he having set forth before this House the fact in a subsequent accusation that Doctor Morgan had interviewed him and made a statement to him, then I see no reason why we should not do the Doctor the courtesy of at least treating him as a gentleman, because it is only a common state of affairs that we from time to time during every session of the Legislature have some newspaper, maybe not one but many, who see a great scoop in a vivid story, and it may be that the newspaper man did possibly misquote the remarks of Doctor Morgan. If Mr. Haws, the gentleman from Philadelphia, has an indivdual accusation to make against Doctor Morgan, then I think that we should not only have Doctor Morgan before the committee but that we should likewise have the newspaper man. I hold no brief for the Doctor, and neither do I have any intention of stifling newspaper printing, as the gentleman from Lawrence has intimated, nor have the American newspaper walk over everybody. It is time that the members of the House begin to realize that we are not children, but that we are here to exercise some function. It is very easy for any newspaper man to write a beautiful story or accusation, which no man can deny, but I think in all justice to the Doctor from Philadelphia, who has been honest enough to answer in a communication, and who has done it without being summoned by a vote of the House, that he should be given the consideration due to a gentleman and due to a former member of this House.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what I said was not from an individual standpoint. The Doctor's article applied to every member of this House and he only ran to cover after a resolution had been put through this House to compel him to come here and substantiate his charges.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and one hundred and four members voting in the affirmative and forty-two in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmattive and the motion was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. REED asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Rice on account of illness.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON PENAL INSTITUTIONS.

Mr. TALBOT presented the report of the Commission on Penal Institutions.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted on the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

(For report see Appendix.)

RESOLUTION NO. 10.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Resolution No. 10, file folio 765.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1929.

Whereas In the recent Federal investigation into the coal strike in Western Pennsylvania involving the coal and iron police it was brought out that one company alone two years prior to that investigation had caused to be commissioned as many as twenty-two hundred coal and iron police and that at the time of the investigation two years later said company could only give the whereabouts and addresses of twenty-two of such officers who were still in their employ and

Whereas There has been a recent brutal killing brought about in an attempted arrest of citizens of the Commonwealth by such coal and iron police therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the various corporations and companies employing such police officers commissioned by the Governor are hereby required to furnish to the General Assembly a list of names and addresses of such officers commissioned at their instigation and the commissions of whom have not been revoked of record and the whereabouts of the persons holding such commissions which report shall be furnished not later than March fifteenth one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine and be it further

Resolved That it is the sense of the General Assembly the present law be amended in such a way that the corporations and companies employing such officers be held responsible for the actions and conduct of such officers while in their employ and that such corporations and companies at the termination of the services of such officers be required to notify the Governor and lift the commissions and badges of such officers at the termination of their services and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to each corporation and company at whose instance as may appear from records in the office of the Department of State commissions have been issued to such policemen

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Cameron if he still has objections to this resolution.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I answer the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baldrige, by saying that I have no objection to the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to make an announcement that I have made for a number of years at each session, and which refers to that wonderful Irish dinner that is known as Saint Patrick's Day Sons of Saint Patrick banquet. This dinner will be held in the Penn-Harris ballroom on Tuesday evening, March 12th. Of course Saint Patrick was born on March 17th, but this time we have moved his birthday up about five days so that it will be convenient for all to be present that night. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the ballroom only holds a certain number of banqueters. The tickets will be ready in a couple of days. I would like to see the members of the House get their tickets first because of the great demand already being made for tickets. In fact, some persons have asked for as many as twenty tickets. I want to see the members of the House get their tickets first, and also the members of the Senate. The tickets will be ready in a couple of days and I would like to ask you all to come to the desk promptly and get the tickets you desire for the banquet on Tuesday evening, March the 12th, in the Penn Harris hotel.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. CLOVIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. MARTIN S. CLARK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CLOVIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 6, by striking out the word "five" and insert in lieu thereof "four."

Amend section 1, page 1, line 6, by striking out the numerals "($8,000)" and insert in lieu thereof "($4,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this bill came before the House on final passage two weeks ago the gentleman from Allegheny, Doctor Steedle, said to the House and to me that he thought the penalty in the bill was excessive, and at that time asked me if I would be willing and if the Department would be willing, because it is a Department of Health bill, to change the penalty in this bill back to the original amount. The penalty in the bill then before the House was a penalty of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. Doctor Steedle was very persuasive and he has convinced me that he was right and I was wrong, and so I have amended the bill by reducing the amount of the penalty to an amount of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars which was the original amount. I think the bill is now satisfactory to Doctor Steedle and to the Department of Health and to the members of the medical profession in the House generally.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 499, entitled:

An Act providing a method whereby territory within a borough contiguous to or separated from a third class city by a river or stream may be detached from the borough and annexed to such city

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor to explain this bill.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, for a number of years there has been a need for a bill allowing a third class city to annex a portion of a borough. This bill gives a third class city that right with the consent of the annexed. I want you members of the House to understand that it is not a forcible annexation. You must have permission from a certain percentage, two-thirds of the property-owners, that they wish to join the third-class city, and it cannot go over one-fifth of the population of the borough.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to this bill. I will ask you, before you vote on this bill, to kindly read this bill pretty carefully. The purpose of this bill, as it refers to the city of Reading, only means the ruination of Reading and will move the courthouse which will go out from the city to the borough outside and across the river, and I would ask the members of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think you members know me too well to think I am trying to pull something over on you. This bill came to me from the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs. Mr. Hagmaier and Mr. Rhodes and myself last session presented a number of pieces of legislation for the Association of Boroughs. Last week at the convention of the Association this bill was unanimously endorsed. Also by the third class cities in their convention this bill was unanimously endorsed. I cannot for the life of me understand why the opposition comes from Berks County. It refers not only to Berks County but it can take in any third class city, for instance where there is a stream running along side of it and it wishes to annex a part of a borough for an airport or a sewage disposal plant or a playground or for any other use that they want to make of it. Another thing, the people in the annexed portion have all the say. I would be the last man to come into this House and introduce a bill which would permit forcible annexation. There has been a need for a law of this kind for several years because under the law as it now exists a third class city can annex a borough or a township, but, under the present law, they cannot annex a part of a borough, and that, ladies and gentlemen, is the purpose of the bill and therefore I ask you to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1929 — 128th of the General Assembly

Vol. 11 — HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1929 — No. 17

SENATE

TUESDAY, February 26, 1929.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Arthur H. James) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou Almighty and Eternal God, we recognize Thee as the Supreme Law Giver. We realize that Thy laws are governing the physical universe which Thou hast created. We marvel at the exactness of them, and we pray that Thou who hast created us as moral and intelligent beings, with the power of choice, wilt help us to recognize the laws which govern the moral and spiritual universe of which we are a part; and may we realize that these laws of thine are enacted for our good, so that with the Psalmist we may say, "Oh, how I love Thy law. It is my meditation all the day."

We pray Thee that the laws enacted by this Legislature may fulfill the benevolent purposes of all Thy laws. May we have in our land a law-abiding citizenship, and not an anarchistic state in their tendencies and thinking. Then shall Thy great kingdom be advanced in our midst and Thy name be glorified. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as I cannot be present tomorrow I would like to say just a few words on this bill just read. In Philadelphia there is a block of ground at Market Street and Twenty-second and Twenty-third occupied for many years by gas holders, gas tanks. There is a committee of citizens,—about twenty-five in number, who are obtaining a charter from the court, for corporations of the first-class without profit; and we expect to raise about a million dollars by private subscription to erect on this lot a theater which will be a kind of people's theater because the top price for the best seats will be one dollar,—no seat to cost more than one dollar.

We purpose there to give the people of Philadelphia the very best dramatic performances possible without any profit to ourselves; and this is an enabling act which will enable the City of Philadelphia to lease to us at a nominal rental, one dollar a year, this piece of ground for this philanthropic purpose.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Martin W. Schweitzer, offered the following prayer:

Most holy and most gracious God, who turnest the shadow of night into morning, satisfy us early with Thy mercy, that we may rejoice and be glad all the day. Lift the light of Thy countenance upon us; calm every troubled thought, and guide our feet into the way of peace. Oh God, our heavenly Father, who knowest our frame and rememberest that we are dust, have compassion upon our frailty. Against Thee, Thee only, have we sinned; but there is forgivenness with Thee that Thou mayest be feared. Through a true repentance lead us forth into the brightness of Thy peace.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within, bless His holy name, Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits." We ask it for and through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 663, entitled:

An Act requiring the Commonwealth to increase the salaries of the members of the Capitol police force.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Willingly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what the present salary of the capitol police force is.

Mr. DUNN. One hundred dollars a month.

Mr. BARTON. I would like to ask what the number of men is that are employed.

Mr. DUNN. About fifty.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the majority of the members, I feel, that come to the Legislature should feel that they are law-abiding citizens of the State of Pennsylvania. I am not very familiar with the situation, but it seems to me that with the number of officers at fifty, perhaps that is too many and perhaps the present salary is sufficient. I just bring the matter before the House.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the police of the capitol receive just about a hundred dollars a month and these are the men on whom we depend for our protection. They have not received an increase in salary for about eight years. When these men are called upon to do extra duty they do not receive extra compensation for that. I know in the two years I have been here and also this year many salaries have been increased for many people throughout the State and therefore I think these men are entitled to some consideration. I would ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I came to this House in 1917 and was here in 1921. We had in this House a gentleman from Philadelphia, a gentleman who is well known in Philadelphia, a member of this House for two sessions, who was active, progressive and always serving the interests of his people. I want to call your attention to this man and if I can ask your indulgence, I would ask that we might hear from him for a few moments. He is now one of the assistant district attorneys in Philadelphia in charge of prohibition enforcement. The reason I want you to hear him is this; I have never heard in the Hall of this House an argument made by any man that surpassed the argument made by John C. Asbury. May I, Mr. Speaker, escort the gentleman to the Chair that he may make a few remarks to this House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, to escort the Honorable John C. Asbury, to the rostrum.

REMARKS BY THE HONORABLE JOHN C. ASBURY.

The SPEAKER. Ladies and gentlemen of the House and guests, it affords me great pleasure to introduce to you at this time an ex-member of this body, one with whom I have had the pleasure of serving, the Honorable John C. Asbury, of Philadelphia, who will now address you.

HONORABLE JOHN C. ASBURY. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I have been taken so much by surprise that I hardly know what to say, however, I feel very much elated and there runs through me a very pleasurable sensation because I consider that this mark of recognition by this House is the most eventful thing that has happened in my life of sixty-seven years. The two terms that I served in this House were very informing to me. I look back upon them as the four most happy years of my life. I am proud to recollect that I have once been a member of this body, and I recollect with satisfaction and pleasure the kindly treatment that I received at the hands of every member of this House when I was here. As I have had occasion to say on the floor of this House, I was born, reared and educated in the State of Pennsylvania, and my experience is that the Pennsylvania boy, girl, woman and man, are the salt of the earth and the best people in this world. I feel that this is the greatest state in the Union for many reasons. I feel that her history is most replete with deeds of courage and of daring in the upbuilding of our present-day civilization. I feel that her industries are the greatest in the world. I feel that her substance is such that it could not be dispensed with and the nation maintain its present high standard. I have long felt that this is a great state, the greatest in the Union; that its officials are worthy of every recognition everywhere, and I feel very deeply that when the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania signs a document, wherever it may be presented, it should be recognized even if it should be in the Senate of the United States. I feel that Pennsylvania and its great Governor need no other credentials than the signatures and the great seal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As one of its humblest citizens, I thank you again and again for this mark of recognition and approval.

The SPEAKER. We hope that the Honorable Mr. Asbury will find it possible to call upon us again. We are always glad to have him with us.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 218, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eighteen article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the benefit of those who do not understand what this bill means, I shall take a few moments time in informing you what it means to an unfortunate class of people. This amendment passed the House and Senate two years ago and according to law must again pass both houses before it can be placed on the ballot for the people of this State to vote on. This bill does not call for any appropriation. If the citizens of the State of Pennsylvania vote in the affirmative for it the Legislature of 1935 will have the legal right to appropriate sufficient funds to meet the situation. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to say something which I believe after you have heard it will influence you not to vote against this bill. When you go along the highways and the by-ways and in the large cities and towns in Pennsylvania you frequently come in contact with sightless men are soliciting. These men, or women, are not doing this from choice; they are doing it from necessity. It is true we have in the state organizations that are supposed to take care of these unfortunates, but they are not doing it, because it is not practicable. Since this is an age of efficiency and production it is impossible for sightless men and women to secure employment to-day. We have eighteen states in the Union to-day giving pensions to sightless people and since Pennsylvania is one of the richest states in the Union, I maintain she should do something like that. Now, gentlemen, I ask the members of this House to vote for this bill because it is a meritorious one.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BICKETT returned from the Committee on Public Roads, with recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Repeal Bills, House Bill No. 214, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 542), entitled "An act to tax traction-engines, and providing that the same shall be assessed by the several assessors of the counties of this Commonwealth in the same manner as other articles of personal estate liable for taxation are assessed."

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committe on Repeal Bills.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I have here House Bill No. 166 making an appropriation to a Mrs. Kinsley of Philadelphia. This bill was presented by Mr. Mathay and asks the State to appropriate the sum of four hundred and some odd dollars to Mrs. Kinsley for money taken by the State under judicial procedure for the maintenance of Mr. Kinsley in a State institution. The Committee indefinitely postponed this bill and in the absence of securing the consent of the Commitee to re-refer this bill and in view of the fact that the bill is an appropriation bill and would require the Commonwealth to appropriate this money, I don't think it is necessary to get the consent of the Committee on Judiciary Local for its recommitting, therefore, if the House is satisfied, I ask at the present time to have this bill recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SPANGLER returned from the Committee on Judiciary Local, with recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 166, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to Mrs. Anna Kinsley of Philadelphia for moneys erroneously and inadvertently paid into the State Treasury.

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, there is in the House at the present time a former member of the House for whom I have great respect and affection and with whom I have had a controversy over the passage of a bill which refers to certain legislation which he has been interested in, and in which I disagree with him thoroughly and in which he disagrees with me thoroughly. Nevertheless, I have great respect for him. He is a man of whom Pennsylvania may well be proud for his distinguished career in the House. I rise at this time to ask that we may have a word from the Honorable Ben Ludlow who has bothered this House more or less with a bill which I have been trying more or less successfully to have repealed.

The SPEAKER. The Honorable Mr. Wilson from McKean and the Honorable Mr. Peters from Montgomery will escort the Honorable Mr. Ludlow to the Rostrum.

It affords the Chair great pleasure to introduce to the members of the House, as well as our guests, the Honorable Benjamin H. Ludlow of Philadelphia, an ex-member of this House.

REMARKS BY HON. BENJAMIN H. LUDLOW.

The HONORABLE BENJAMIN H. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this is as near reaching the Speaker's desk as I have been since 1923. I suspect that my friend, the gentleman from McKean, is wanting me to speak and establish a kind of reason as a basis for repealing the act of 1923. I think perhaps he might be successful, and, then, again, I think he might not be. I learned before I came to Harrisburg on this visit that the chairman of the Elections Committee of the House had departed from his duties to introduce a bill relating to beauty. I tried my best to come to Harrisburg to be an exhibit for the bill, but I understand it was defeated anyhow.

I think in view of what the Speaker said about my being a scrapper that some of your peaceful folks of 1929 may misunderstand. I am a peaceful minded citizen. I practice in Philadelphia but my chair was from Montgomery, and in the eventful days of 1923 I was very frequently in the majority in the morning but on a vote to reconsider in the minority in the afternoon.

I count as my most instructive service in the House the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers. I never rose to my feet to make a speech on anything that I thought I was prepared on but what this very mild, and apparently inoffensive voice said, "Mr. Speaker may I interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery," and there then followed, even before the days of Moran and Mack a dialogue that was worth listening in on as far as he was concerned. I immediately, after I left the House in 1923,, joined an organization known as the "Goats," of which I am still a member and for which the gentleman from Philadelphia trained me. I had no information that I was going to be called on, Mr. Speaker, but I was afraid when I heard somebody ask for the privilege of the floor under a question of personal privilege that I would be called on and I tried not to be seen.

It is a pleasure to come back and meet the men and women of the House of 1925 and of the special session of 1926, and in these days when you are living so peacefully, politically, perhaps, especially in the larger cities of the first and second class, where all is so very very peaceful, I think I had better get down before I am thrown out. I am glad to have had this permission to speak collectively to my old friends of the House and to see in the Chair as your Speaker one with whom it was my pleasure to serve in 1925, the Speaker, Aaron Hess. I am very much obliged to you all; glad to say "Hello" and "Good Bye" in the same sentence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, and members of the House, we are trying to complete the arrangements for the trip to Washington on Monday. There have been a good many details to be worked out and I think that Mr. Hamilton, of the Senate, and Mr. White, of the House, are going to complete them to our satisfaction. There is one question about which I am a little fearful, and that is that we have not taken care of all the members that are going on the train that leaves Philadelphia at 7.25 A. M. on Monday morning, March 4th, for the reason that it may be necessary for us to distribute the tickets for the stand and to make certain arrangements to secure transportation in Washington in order that we can get through the lines, particularly to the Willard Hotel and to our stand. I have before me a list of those who have signified their intention of going on this train. Will those who have made their plans to go to Philadelphia try to see me before adjournment or just after adjournment this afternoon to make sure that their reservation is on this list. We do not want to get on that train and find that we have forty-five members who want seats on the stand and then find that we only have forty tickets for the forty-five members. There may have been in the confusion and the necessary detail in making all of the arrangements some whose reservations have not been properly made or some might have been overlooked.

Just let me say to the rest of the members of the House that final instructions will either be sent out to-morrow before you leave here, or will be sent to your homes so that they will reach there before the end of the week, giving you the complete program in Washington. A very careful program has been worked out, and one that I think is going to afford a great amount of pleasure to the delegation from this House. I cannot give you the details of this just now because some of it is yet in the making, but will try to have these instructions for you either to-morrow before you leave or to reach your homes before the end of the week. Then, may I plead with you that you sit down and read what is written on the paper. Luckily I wont be near by to be asked questions concerning it. I think that the combined minds of those who are working on it will try to express the program in ordinary

English so it will be understood by people of average ignorance, but should you not I ask your charity and your cooperation in reading what they write.
